CHOICES
for SENIORS

Our Fourth Edition

CHOICES for Seniors is designed to provide you with the information needed to meet your everyday and future challenges. Whether you are a senior, have a disability or are a caregiver or health care provider, this directory will assist you in finding the answers, programs, services and products you need.

A government, social service and non-profit organization listing begins the directory, followed by businesses that have specialized programs and services for seniors. A handy table of contents helps you navigate the information, as does two indices in the back, one listing businesses alphabetically, the other by category.

Dear Friend,

We are proud to present the 4th edition of Choices for Seniors Directory. It has been the Eldercare “bible” for 8 years now, directing seniors and their families, caregivers, and health care providers to resources for seniors.

Covering four counties, the directory will lead you to government, non-profit and for-profit programs, services, facilities and more. There is no other directory of this kind in our area for seniors, one of the fastest growing population in New Jersey.

Usually, the directory has a shelf life about 2 years. However, the last few years, with the advent of the COVID-19 pandemic, publishing this issue has continued to be forestalled. We owe our advertisers and Good Impressions Print Communications a debt of gratitude for their patience and commitment to getting this directory out to you.

For a senior, the importance of this directory, covering Hunterdon, Mercer, Somerset, and Warren Counties, is vast. It contains the answers for questions like:

- “What services can assist me so I can remain living in the home I have known for 30 years?”
- “I want to downsize, but where do I start?”
- “I think it is time I moved to an assisted living community. What are the options in my area?”
- “It’s time to update my will and make sure my estate is in order. What attorneys specializes in such things?”
- “Are there any social opportunities for my age group?”
- “My mom is coming to live with me. What do I need to do to make sure she has the right doctors?”

For more than 30 years, Hunterdon Helpline has been providing services to seniors so they can age successfully in the residence of their choice. Our Telephone Reassurance, Volunteer Shopper and Friendly Visitor programs do just that. We started publishing this directory so seniors could have such resources like ours and those listed in their directory at their fingertips.

Along with the “hard copy” of the directory, people can access the information on line at www.choicesforseniorsdirectory.org. We want to make sure that people needing this valuable information access it whether they have a hard copy or not and at any time.

While we celebrate this 4th Edition, we hope that you find it both useful and an interesting collection of relevant information.

The Greying of New Jersey

New Jersey has had a fast-growing senior population over the last several years, jumping from just over 14% to 16.9%.

The same is true for the counties represented in CHOICES for Seniors directory:

Hunterdon County: 20.1%

Mercer County: 16%

Somerset County: 16.7%

Warren County: 19.2%

Hunterdon County is the fastest growing and comes in third behind Cape May (28.2%) and Ocean County (22.4%), according to the 2021 US Census. Of course, the higher percentage in those counties is due to their status as retirement havens.

Clearly, the rising demographic is an indicator that programs and services must also increase as the need increases.

IS MEMORY LOSS A CONCERN?

Tips for Touring an Assisted Living

Many people choose an assisted living community when they can no longer safely live at home, but do not need Nursing Home care. Choosing an Assisted Living can be overwhelming if you do not know what to look for and what questions to ask.

Asking the correct questions will help you make a confident decision in choosing the best assisted living. Here are some questions that you want to ask.

- What kind of care do you offer? When is someone no longer assisted living appropriate?
- If additional care is needed will the community assist with transfer?
- What is the average staff longevity? Average resident longevity?
- What is the staff to resident ratio?
- Is there a nurse on-site 24 hours a day?
- Does the community assist with transportation for medication appointments?
- Who provides medication administration in the community?
- Do they accept Medicaid? Most Assisted Living's require you pay privately for 2-3 years before they will accept Medicaid. Make sure you plan ahead. Move sooner rather than later if funds are limited.
- Is there a community fee? Make sure you go over all the pricing. You do not want to find any hidden costs.
- How many units is the community licensed for?
- Is there a dedicated unit/floor for those suffering from memory care?
- Finally, the most important question... ask what makes them stand out from the other Assisted Livings?

The first step is to decide what is important to you and your family to narrow down your search. When touring an assisted living it is always a good idea to make an appointment and sit with down with one of their specialists and get as much information as you can. During your appointment it is best to bring along any specific questions you may have. Your tour begins the moment you walk through the doors. Observe the community surroundings and amenities. Is the community well kept? Does it have a home-like feel?

Finding an Assisted Living that checks all of your boxes can take time. It is best to start advanced planning for your future so you are prepared and confident that you have found a place where your loved one will feel safe and comfortable.

Seniors & Technology

While many people may think that seniors are confounded by technology, more and more seniors, even well into their 80s are learning about and relying upon technology to keep them informed and connected.

According to several studies, including those conducted by the Pew Research Center, more and more seniors are substituting cellphones for landlines, are learning about and using computers and tablets and are connecting through social media outlets.

Points to remember about connecting seniors with technology:

- > A gift of a laptop, cellphone or tablet must include directions/instructions
Technology may be welcomed but useless without instructions.
- > Set up emergency contacts on cellphones
Cellphones can be a huge asset in the case of an emergency – make calling emergency contacts as easy as possible.
- > Setting up Social Media accounts connects the user to family and friends
Sites such as Facebook, even Zoom, often show the value of being connected technologically.
- > Utilize community computer classes offered by Senior Centers and other, similar facilities
Seniors taking advantage of such learning opportunities use their devices more frequently and with greater success.

Volunteers Needed

Without volunteers, the non-profit agencies listed in this directory could not provide the programs and services they offer, many of which are free.

Volunteers are giving, caring people who believe that offering a helping hand or giving back to their community is an essential part of the fabric of their life. Won't you become part of this caring community?

Hunterdon Helpline is always seeking volunteers for:

- ✓ Telephone Reassurance
- ✓ Friendly Visitor
- ✓ Literacy Services
- ✓ Hunterdon Hispanos
- ✓ Community Translation Center
- ✓ Volunteer Shopper

For more volunteer opportunities, please visit the Non-Profit and Government Agencies/Organizations directory beginning on page 5.

There's an opportunity just right for you!

TRANSPORTATION

Transportation

welcome to the

The LINK is the only mode of community transit in Hunterdon County. The County has partnered with Easton Coach to provide community transportation to ALL its citizens. We have a fleet of 23 buses that travel throughout the county. Our Cross County routes consist of North to South, Hampton to Lambertville and East to West, Holland to Readington. In Flemington we offer two Shuffle Routes traveling in opposition to take you around Flemington 7:30 am to 8:30 pm for $2.00 a day, as well as one Shuffle on Saturday 8:30 am to 7:30 pm. We also offer Demand Response Shared Ride Service from 7:00 am to 4:30 pm Monday through Friday. Additionally, we offer a Bridgewater Express route that will take you to RVCC, Bridgewater Commons Mall and the Somerville Train Station for just $2.00 a day.

It is easy to use the LINK. Call Central Dispatch at 1-800-842-0531 Monday-Friday, 8:30 am - 4:30 pm. It's best to call by noon the day before you need to travel. If you know up to 14 days in advance of your appointment, you may book it. The courteous and knowledgeable dispatcher will schedule your pick-up and return trip, after you answer a few questions. Feel free to call and confirm your pick-up times with dispatch. Have a smart phone? Download our Mobile App, Ecolane in Hunterdon and contact dispatch to start viewing your booked trips. Contact dispatch for further information and help.

How do you pay for your ride? For Seniors, age 60 and older, are given a "cost share" envelope. This is a reduced fare with a suggested donation of $1.50. Your only responsibility is to return the envelope to the driver. The LINK is available to all residents of Hunterdon County regardless of your income level. Other public riders pay a cash fare of $2.00 per zone.

The LINK is here to take you to all your appointments including medical, shopping, visiting, volunteer work and recreational all throughout the county. All our buses are wheelchair accessible. If you need to bring an aide or companion, they may ride at no extra charge.

Many seniors tell of how much they enjoy their time on the LINK. The LINK may be a place where people meet and form personal relationships. When this happens, passengers view their time on the LINK as a social outing to and from their scheduled appointment.

Judy from Flemington says:

“Thank heavens for the LINK! Without it I wouldn't be able to enjoy my life the way I do.”

Friendly Visitor Program

Aging in place can be difficult. We all would rather stay in our familiar surroundings. Often, however, that means being isolated from family and friends.

Hunterdon Helpline's free Friendly Visitor program assists with a person's ability to age in place and live alone and independently while still having someone to check in on them, visit socially and make sure all is well.

Friendly Visitors visits Hunterdon County residents 60 years of age and older, who are socially and/or geographically isolated or whose caregivers need a respite to run errands or attend to work or business matters.

Friendly Visitor Volunteers visit seniors at the seniors' residence. The residence can be their house or apartment or long-term care facility. The visits are social in nature and the matched pair may play cards, look at photographs, read the newspaper, write letters, reminisce or just chat. Friendly Visitors have the oversight of Hunterdon Helpline if any issues or concerns are identified and the senior needs further assistance.

Volunteer Shopper Program

For seniors aging in place, transportation, mobility and other issues can be an impediment to taking care of daily chores. Grocery shopping is often a task that goes undone. The ramifications for a senior may mean nutritional imbalance and the resulting medical conditions that are associated with lack of food or drink.

The Hunterdon Helpline Volunteer Shopper program provides seniors with volunteers who run the errand of shopping, bringing back the groceries to the home and helping to store them in pantry and/or refrigerator. Seniors provide the funds to purchase the groceries. Volunteer Shopper must undergo a background check.

This program not only assists the senior, but family members as well, who may live a distance away, have a full work schedule or are themselves unable to perform this task due to transportation or other issues.

Your Pathway to Preparedness During a Community Crisis/Disaster

Emergencies occur every day of the year. No matter if the emergency is located in your neighborhood, a large-scale power outage throughout your municipality or a devastating hurricane, it's important to prepare in advance by creating a safety plan that identifies needs, resources, and a support network.

“Community resilience” is the ability to prepare for almost any anticipated disaster or emergency, adapt to changing conditions, and withstand and recover quickly from those disruptions. Emergency and disaster preparedness are key steps to resilience because:

- Disasters can happen unexpectedly
- The effects of disasters and emergencies are felt directly by individuals and families
- Most people prefer to make choices and decisions that are best for them and their unique situation, however, your options will be limited once a disaster occurs.
- Basic services, such as transportation or communication can be disrupted for days, weeks or even months after a disaster.

New Jersey municipalities and county governments make most decisions about local emergency procedures and disaster response. It is important that all individuals should have accurate information about their local emergency management plans. To find out more information about your local emergency procedures and disaster response plans, contact your county Office of Emergency Management and the Access and Functional Needs Coordinator:

There are a few points to consider in order to build community resilience before, during and after an emergency:

- Know and develop your strengths, skills and abilities. Participate in community activities, drills, exercises and other training. Get involved in your community and show your support for others. Use existing skills and abilities during an emergency or disaster. You can make an impact by providing emotional support, keeping others calm, preparing meals or speaking a native language.

- Know your personal health and medical needs. It is important to know your personal health and medical needs. Be sure to have access to devices, such as an extra wheelchair or hearing aid batteries, an adequate oxygen tank supply, catheters, medication, and specialized food for yourself and for your service animal.
- Know and build your network of support. Build a network of neighbors, family, relatives, friends, service workers, care providers and co-workers that know your unique personal needs and who can assist during an emergency and non-emergency. Consider including in your network a faith-based organization or group (e.g. synagogue or church), social groups or senior centers.
- Know your community. Look for resources in your own community. Identify alternative locations to receive care and support within your community just in case your primary network contacts are unable to assist.

Regardless of the emergency or disaster, remember these five basic tips:

1. At minimum, keep a three-day supply of water and food in your home. If you have the resources and ample storage space, build a seven-day supply of water and non-perishable foods. Keep in mind, you will want to address your specific dietary needs. You will also want to keep essential items in an “Emergency Kit”.
2. Have a safety plan with important contact information available. List contact details for family, friends, medical care providers and other supports in your network.
3. Remain calm! Disasters and emergencies can be very frightening for anyone.
4. Most of the time, it is safer to stay inside during an emergency or disaster. You may need to shelter-in-place away from windows, unless specifically instructed by emergency professionals that they need for you to evacuate.
5. Prior to an emergency, individuals with access and functional needs, including those with a disability, should notify the local power company, caregivers, friends or family of any special-needs circumstances. New Jersey residents should consider signing up for the Register Ready program to identify their possible needs during an emergency. Register Ready can be found online at: <https://www13.state.nj.us/SpecialNeeds/>
